

Elena

Your Pattern Recognition Report

Assessment Date: March 07, 2026

Reassessment Date: May 16, 2026

Growing the spine that was never allowed to form.

Your SPINE

Your SPINE reveals Identity at 63% as your strongest vertebra and Nourishment at 44% as the vertebra asking for the most attention. This is your starting point, not your destination.

Elena — SPINE Overview

Vertebra	Score	Stage	Description
S — Sovereignty	57%	Recognition/Practice	The capacity to own your own interior — desire, arousal, and erotic selfhood
P — Power	54%	Emergence	The capacity to act from your own authority — consent, communication, b

I — Identity	63%	Recognition/Practice	The capacity to know and define yourself — erotic identity, orientation, expression
N — Nourishment	44%	Excavation	The capacity to receive and enjoy — pleasure, receiving, and erotic play with
E — Embodiment	47%	Emergence	The capacity to live in and trust your body — somatic presence, sensory ra

Reading Your Shape

What your map is telling you

Your SPINE reveals Identity as the vertebra therapy built — at 63%, it's your strongest domain. Erotic Identity Clarity at 72% and Orientation & Preference Exploration at 68% prove the orientation work landed. But underneath it, your Nourishment vertebra at 44% and Embodiment at 47% tell the deeper story.

Receiving Capacity at 38% and Boundary Sovereignty at 42% are your primary bottleneck — the gatekeeper wound still running in your Power vertebra at 54%. You can claim who you love. You haven't yet fully claimed your right to receive pleasure and express need. The over-pleasing isn't random. It's your nervous system trying to prevent another total loss by managing everyone's experience of you before they decide you're too much.

Elena's map is forward-leading — her Forward cluster (63%) and Aliveness (47%) are well ahead of her Between (51%) and Self (53%). Therapy addressed orientation shame but not purity-worth fusion underneath. She can claim who she loves; she hasn't yet fully claimed her right to receive pleasure and express need. Boundary Sovereignty (42%) and Receiving Capacity (38%) are her primary bottleneck — the gatekeeper wound still running.

Your anchor: Erotic Identity Clarity (72%)

Identity is your anchor vertebra — at 63%, it's the strongest point on your SPINE. Erotic Identity Clarity at 72% is the peak. Coming out at 24 and building a life from that truth took real courage. When the need-shame surfaces or the over-pleasing pulls, your Identity vertebra reminds you: you already chose yourself once. You can do it again.

What Was Done To You

This is the wound's architecture. Knowing how it was built is the beginning of knowing how to unbuild it — not with force, but with the specific tools the specific structure requires.

SPINE Domain Detail

S — Sovereignty — 57% (Recognition/Practice)

The capacity to own your own interior — desire, arousal, and erotic selfhood without external permission.

S — Sovereignty: 57% (Recognition/Practice)

Desire Ownership: 62% → 82% (gap: 20)

Arousal-Shame Decoupling: 52% → 78% (gap: 26)

Erotic Self-Acceptance: 58% → 82% (gap: 24)

P — Power — 54% (Emergence)

The capacity to act from your own authority — consent, communication, boundaries, and relational awareness.

P — Power: 54% (Emergence)

Consent Clarity: 56% → 80% (gap: 24)

Communication Capacity: 52% → 78% (gap: 26)

Boundary Sovereignty: 42% → 78% (gap: 36)

Attachment Pattern Awareness: 65% → 82% (gap: 17)

I — Identity — 63% (Recognition/Practice)

The capacity to know and define yourself — erotic identity, orientation, exploration, vision, and integration.

I — Identity: 63% (Recognition/Practice)

Erotic Identity Clarity: 72% → 88% (gap: 16)

Orientation & Preference Exploration: 68% → 85% (gap: 17)

Conscious Exploration Capacity: 58% → 80% (gap: 22)

Sexual Future Vision: 65% → 82% (gap: 17)

Integration Readiness: 52% → 78% (gap: 26)

N — Nourishment — 44% (Excavation)

The capacity to receive and enjoy — pleasure, receiving, and erotic play without earning it first.

N — Nourishment: 44% (Excavation)

Pleasure Permission: 48% → 80% (gap: 32)

Receiving Capacity: 38% → 75% (gap: 37)

Erotic Play Capacity: 45% → 75% (gap: 30)

E — Embodiment — 47% (Emergence)

The capacity to live in and trust your body — somatic presence, sensory range, spontaneity, levity, and curiosity.

E — Embodiment: 47% (Emergence)

Body Trust: 44% → 75% (gap: 31)

Sensory Range: 50% → 78% (gap: 28)

Spontaneous Presence: 42% → 72% (gap: 30)

Intimate Levity: 48% → 75% (gap: 27)

Embodied Curiosity: 52% → 78% (gap: 26)

Your Active Edges

Receiving Capacity — 38% (Excavation)

At 38%, receiving creates debt, obligation, vulnerability. The work here is letting something good land — a compliment, a gift, a kind word — without immediately giving something back.

Boundary Sovereignty — 42% (Excavation)

At 42%, boundaries still feel like selfishness. The system taught that good people don't have edges. One small no — without retracting it when the guilt arrives — is the practice.

Spontaneous Presence — 42% (Excavation)

At 42%, being fully in your body still triggers the old surveillance response. The work here is thirty seconds of actually being here — not planning, not monitoring. Just: here.

Aliveness & Play

Aliveness at 47%. Something is stirring here — the emergency state is loosening its grip. Embodied Curiosity at 52% tells us there's a part of you that remembers what it's like to be uncomplicated about pleasure.

The work here is expanding what's already happening. More range. More permission. More of the moments where you catch yourself enjoying something without immediately checking if it's allowed. Those moments are the data. Follow them.

Your Wound Architecture

Elena — HDR Wound Mechanisms

Pendulum Risk

Elena — Pendulum Risk

The pendulum risk is low. Your Sovereignty and Embodiment domains have enough ground to hold the work without significant swing risk. This means your nervous system has the foundation to explore without the suppression-overcorrection cycle taking over. This doesn't mean the pendulum never moves — it means when it does, you have the internal ground to notice the movement and come back to center. That ground is real.

Your First Milestones

What the next shifts will feel like

Receiving Capacity — toward Activation Point (50%)

Receiving has entered your body. You can be touched, cared for, attended to without the internal alarm that says you don't deserve it or need to reciprocate immediately. Receiving is becoming its own skill.

Boundary Sovereignty — toward Activation Point (55%)

Your no has moved into the rooms that matter — the bedroom, the family dinner, the relationship. You can hold a boundary where the cost of holding it is real. And you hold it anyway.

Spontaneous Presence — toward Activation Point (45%)

You can stay. Not perfectly — the drift still happens — but you can come back. During touch, during eye contact, during the moments that used to send you to the ceiling. You're learning to land.

Body Trust — toward Activation Point (50%)

Your body has become a source of information you actually use. Not the only source — but a real one. When something feels wrong in your gut, you pause. When something feels right, you notice that too.

Your Practice Prescription

The Daily Return Healing Weeks 1-4

Before the day gets its hands on you — just after waking, while your body is still warm and unguarded — find your own hands. Let them land somewhere without deciding first. Belly. Heart. Thigh. Ribs. Wherever they go is already information. Stay there. Not to fix anything. Not to feel anything in particular. Just to notice you're here. That this body — this specific, imperfect, lived-in body — is yours. It has always been yours. Nobody ever had the right to make you a stranger inside it.

Why this for you: Body Trust at 44% tells us your body doesn't yet feel like home. This practice rebuilds that foundation — one breath at a time, twice a day, until your body starts to expect you.

What you'll notice: At first, probably not much. Maybe numbness. Maybe the urge to skip it — that urge is information too. Around week two, something might shift: a small warmth, a breath that arrives a little easier. Your body beginning to expect you. That expectation is the beginning of coming home.

The Origin Question Resourcing Weeks any

When shame arrives — and it will — ask one question before you accept it: Where did I first learn this was shameful?

Why this for you: This practice supports your foundational work.

What you'll notice: Shame will start to have different textures. Some will feel old and borrowed. Some will feel current and yours. The sorting gets faster.

The Witnessed Voice Healing Weeks 4-8

Find a private minute. Hit record on your phone. Then say something true — something that's been living inside you without sound. It doesn't have to be profound. I'm tired of performing. I want more than this. I don't actually know what I want yet and that scares me. Whatever is true right now.

Why this for you: Communication Capacity at 42% means your truth has been living inside without sound. This practice gives it air — privately, safely, on your terms.

What you'll notice: Resistance at first. Maybe tears. Eventually, a steadiness in your voice that wasn't there before. The gap between knowing and saying will start to close.

Elena, your Identity vertebra at 63% proves you know how to choose yourself. The next edge is your Nourishment vertebra — Receiving Capacity at 38%, learning that your needs aren't too much. That you can take up space in a relationship without earning it first.

Start with the Body No. One small refusal a day, felt in the body. Let your 'yes' start to mean something because 'no' is available. As your Power vertebra strengthens, the over-pleasing will quiet down — not because you force it, but because you no longer need it to keep you safe.

A reassessment is recommended at 10 weeks to track movement, celebrate progress, and adjust your practice prescription.